

Teacher training programmes offered by Humak University of Applied Sciences

If you or your organization has a need or interest to get new insights into teaching trends, pedagogical approaches or pedagogical leadership, Humak would be the right training provider for you!

Humak UAS has a wide range of expertise in pedagogical approaches, outdoor education, linguistic accessibility and pedagogical leadership. We offer both short- and long-term programmes for both professional teachers and other professionals in education, but also for people who need pedagogical expertise in other fields such as social work on business management for instance.

Examples of areas of expertise we possess are:

- Student centred learning
- Activity-based methods
- Collaborative learning (also in online learning environments)
- Outdoor education
- Linguistic accessibility
- Pedagogical leadership

Depending on your own need we are able to design the programme which will meet your specific needs. This could be one of the following programmes:

- Intensive week training in Finnish pedagogical approaches
- Intensive week training in outdoor education
- Intensive week training in linguistic accessibility
- Pedagogical leadership to promote wellbeing and productivity

We want to cater for your specific needs, so let us together tailor make the best training option for you.
